Old Folks' Festival and Other Socials - Ward Organizations.

Special Correspondence.

Victor, Idaho, March 18 .- At a meeting a short time ago our Bishop, D. R. Sinclair, suggested that a good church organ would be a very nice thing to have for the use of the ward; he had hardly spoken the word before his better-half, with an energetic corps of aides, went to work and gathered up a cargo of the good things of the earth, then arranged them in a very enticing manner, in the meeting house annex, and invited the people to partake of a nice supper and dance that would only cost them the triffling little sum of 40 cents each. Well, after Grandma Eynon had counted the ducats it was wards purchasing an organ. This event was followed a few nights later by a home dramatic entertainment, gotten up solely by the larger students of our district school, which was a success in all respects, the boys and birls doing well.

Next came the old folks' reunion held on President Wilford Woodruff's birth-day, March 1st, which was the event of the season. And to make it the hapby and enjoyable time it really was for the aged, there was a ready and universal response given the old folks' committee, assisted by a large delegation of young ladies. The meeting house was nicely decorated, and the gathering was very large, and the veterans were made happy. Another affair occurred only last Thursday at Sister Kate Hamblin's, when the old folks party was dupligiven under the auspicious the Relief Society, in honor of its late officers, Sister Amy Cherry, Sister Talitha Avery and Sister Elizabeth Curtis, who have been very faithful in that labor and calling for the last four years.
